1nService announces appointment of President and Chairman

The 1nService Board Selects Tim Hebert as President and John Tarduno as Chairman.

Bellevue, Wash. – August 12, 2011 - 1nService, the leading network of advanced technology integrators with aggregate sales in excess of $1.5 billion, announces a change in leadership.

1nService named Tim Hebert its new president, effective July 1, 2011. Mr. Hebert, a prominent entrepreneur, industry thought leader and current CEO of Atrion Networking Corporation will lead 1nService on its mission to become the leading advanced technology collaborative community. Hebert has been an avid supporter and member of 1nService since 2000 and over the years has served on the 1nService Board of Directors and for the last four years has served as 1nService's Chairman of the board.

In addition, 1nService's Board of Directors has elected John Tarduno as the Chairman of the Board. Mr. Tarduno is President and Chief Executive Officer of Rockefeller Group Technology Solutions, Inc. RGTS was a founding member of 1nService and Tarduno has served on the 1nService Board for the past four years and recently he has served as the Vice Chair for the organization.

"John and I are excited about the future of collaborative communities." Mr. Hebert said. "The nature of Information Technology has changed drastically over the last decade – especially in the area of advanced technologies. IT systems that were once complicated have grown to be quite complex and require extreme expertise. An organization like 1nService allows integration firms to plug into a vast network of experience and expertise to solve the most complex technology solutions."

Mr. Hebert and Mr. Tarduno are busy preparing for 1nService's flagship collaboration event – Interchange. The theme of this year's Interchange is centered on innovation and how its membership can bring innovation into their business. Interchange will take place in Charlotte North Carolina on November 7th, 8th, and 9th.
